

Game of Thrones Sceneframing

Our so called career as bloggers begun with a set of ten photos that later became known as "sceneframing" photos. They're screenshots from shows or movies aligned with their original background on the actual location where filming took place. Below, you'll see a few Game Of Thrones sceneframes. We're hoping to add to the collection as soon as we make our way to the remaining countries we haven't yet been to!

Explore our Game of Thrones filming location guides!

Read more about sceneframing in our dedicated frame gallery!

Follow our Instagram @sceneframing for more location photos like this!

Tyrion and Ser Jorah sail down Toome Canal in Northern Ireland.

Sceneframing Khaleesi at Shillanavogy Valley, Northern Ireland. #

The Hound and Ray at Sallagh Braes in County Antrim, Northern Ireland.

Jaime Lannister at Quintin Bay in Portaferry, Northern Ireland.

Jaime Lannister at Quintin Bay in Portaferry, Northern Ireland.

The Sand Snakes at Portstewart Strand, Northern Ireland

Ser Jorah and Tyrion at Murlough Bay, Northern Ireland

Ser Jorah and Tyrion at Murlough Bay, Northern Ireland

Scene framing Petyr Baelish aka Littlefinger and Sansa Stark in Galboly

Lord Royce, Littlefinger and Sansa amongst the ruins of Galboly

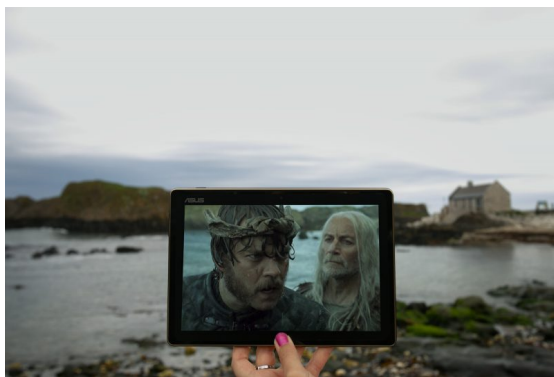

Jon Snow meeting the dragon for the first time at Fair Head.

Euron Greyjoy at Ballintoy Harbour, Northern Ireland

Arya Stark at Carnlough Harbour, Northern Ireland. #

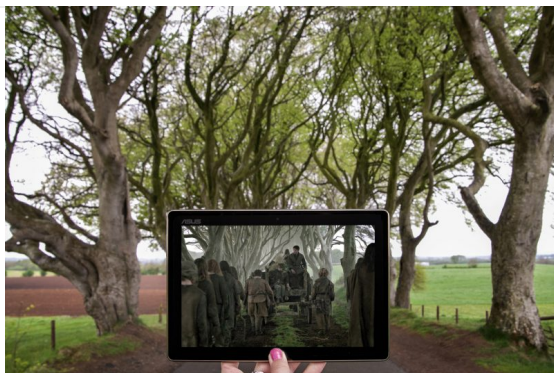

Robb's war camp is just one of the many locations found on the grounds of Castle Ward.

The Stars in Winterfell AKA Castle Ward in Northern Ireland.

King's Road / Dark Hedges, Northern Ireland

Fair Head gave Jon Snow a majestic and worthy background for his brooding.

Tyrion talking to Jon Snow at Fair Head, Northern Ireland

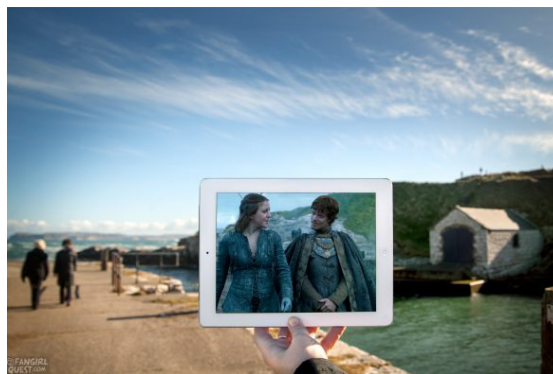

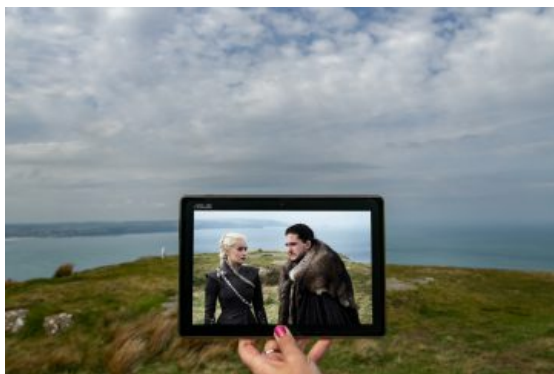

We spent way longer at Fair Head than we were supposed to to try and get as many sceneframes as possible. It was worth it for this shot of Tyrion and Daenerys at Dragonstone, wouldn't you agree?

Daenerys Targaryen and Jon Snow at the cliffs of Fair Head

Yara Greyjoy (Gemma Whelan) and Theon Greyjoy (Alfie Allen) chat upon his return to the Iron Islands on location at Ballintoy Harbour, Northern Ireland.

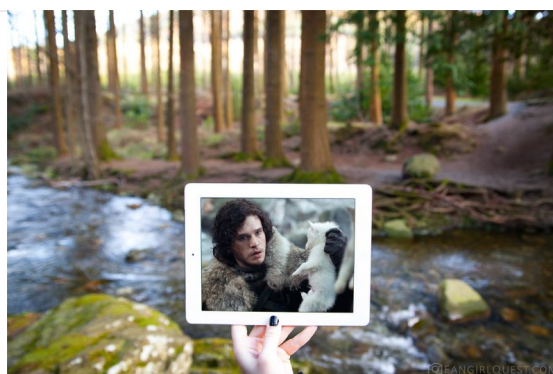

The Red Woman (Carice van Houten) talks with Stannis Baratheon (Stephen Dillane) on Game of Thrones location near Ballintoy Harbour, Northern Ireland.

The wildling camping site filming location in Iceland: Thingvellir National Park.

Ygritte and Tormund adventuring on a Game of Thrones location in Iceland.

The Starks and the direwolf pups in Tollymore Forest Park, Northern Ireland

The Starks in the forest on a Game of Thrones location in Northern Ireland.

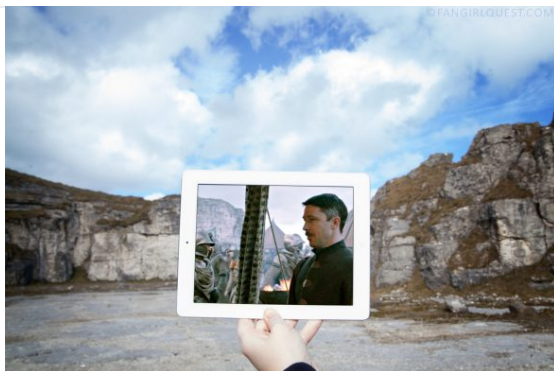

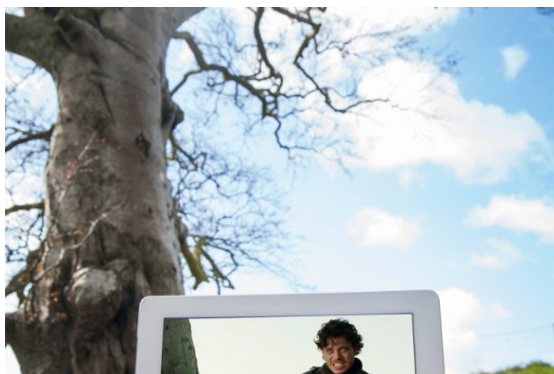

Jaime and Brienne at Audley's Castle, Northern Ireland.

Robb Stark hears about his father's death, filmed at Inch Abbey in Northern Ireland.

Catelyn Stark at Inch Abbey, Northern Ireland

Littlefinger near the Carrick-A-Rede bridge, Northern Ireland

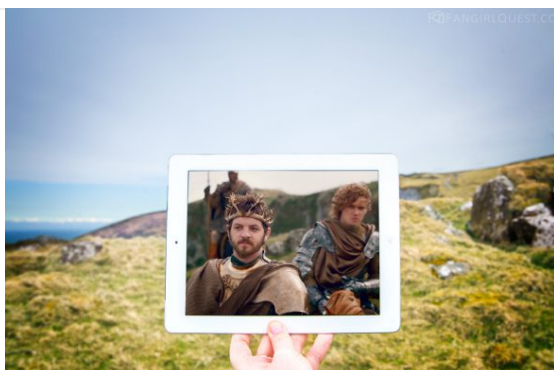

Theon Greyjoy's baptism in Ballintoy Harbour, Northern Ireland

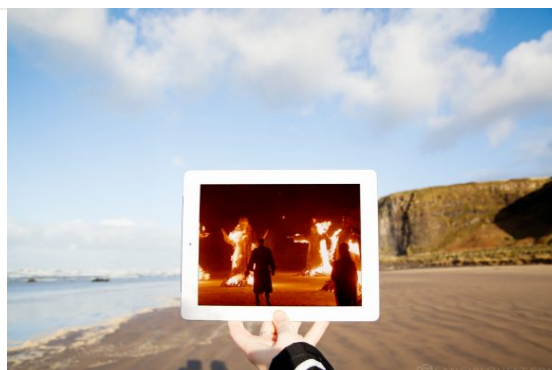

Jaime and Brienne cross a bridge and start fighting on location in Northern Ireland.

Ser Jorah and Khaleesi in Northern Ireland

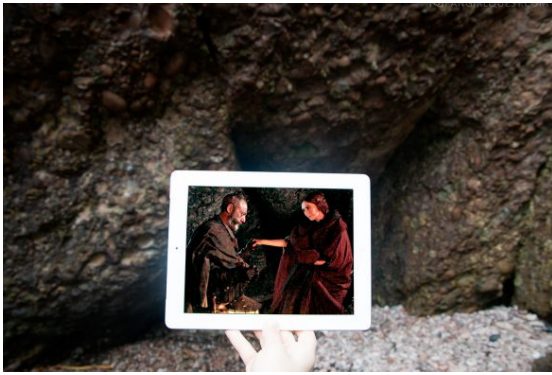

King Renly and Ser Loras: Murlough Bay, Northern Ireland

We (sadly) couldn't do any sceneframing while riding, but here's a shot from our earlier visit: The burning of the seven at Dragonstone Beach

Davos Seaworth and the Red Woman at Cashendun Caves, Northern Ireland

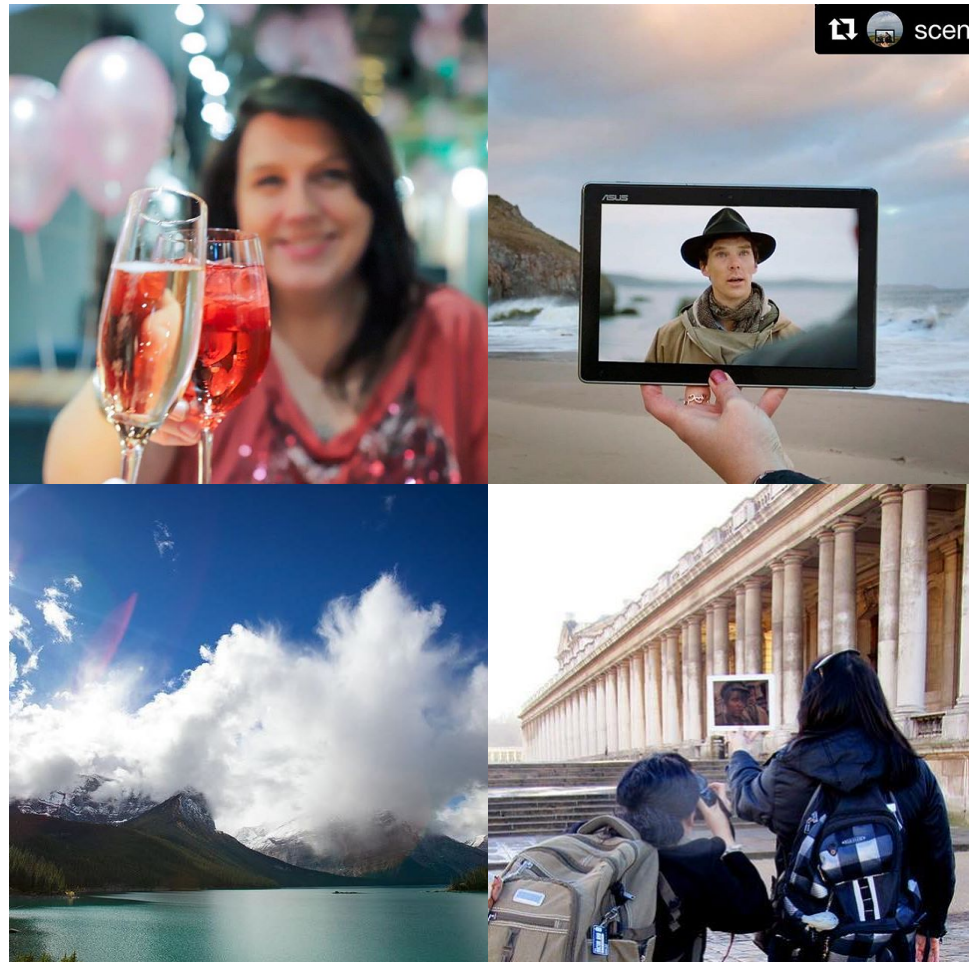

Arya at the Dark Hedges in Northern Ireland.

Looking for something?

Enter your search

@FangirlQuest on Instagram

Copyright © Fangirl Quest

